THE STORY

> The piano theme from the Intro returns with distant fragments from the album: flowing water, turning paper, footsteps and a fading human breath. The final chord does not resolve completely. Some stories stay, some fade, and some quietly become part of who we are. When your story is told one day, what do you hope will still be heard?

Human Stories – Outro

SPOKEN TEXT

Some stories stay with us.
Some slowly fade away.
Some become memories
we carry through the years.

But every moment we lived,
every road we walked,
every heart we touched
became a part of our story.

These were human stories.
