THE STORY

A bright smile can be the most convincing disguise. People see warmth, strength and summer skies, and rarely ask what it costs to keep them shining. Many of us learn to give comfort we have never received, hiding long winters behind an easy laugh. Not everyone needs to be fixed; some only need someone who stays when the light fades. Who would you be if someone finally asked what your smile is carrying?

SONG STRUCTURE

Winters in My Smile

COLD OPEN

I have carried entire winters
Inside a summer smile...

INTRO

VERSE 1

They see the sunlight in my eyes
But never hear the storms inside
I learned to laugh beneath the rain
And hide the weight of all my pain

I wear the warmth of brighter days
While colder memories remain
And every time they call me strong
I wonder how I've played along

PRE-CHORUS

If you could see beneath my skin
The silent world I'm living in
Would you still tell me I'm alright
Or stay beside me through the night?

CHORUS

I carry winters in my smile
I've held the cold for such a while
And though the world sees summer skies
There's frozen rain behind my eyes

I carry winters in my smile
And make the lonely hours worthwhile
But underneath the light I show
There are a thousand shades of snow

BUILD-UP

DROP

VERSE 2

I've danced beneath a golden sky
While something in me said goodbye
I've held the hands of those I love
And still felt distant from their touch

I learned to give what I don't own
A little warmth I've never known
And every heart I've tried to save
Has never seen the price I paid

BREAKDOWN

SPOKEN REFLECTION

They always ask me
Why I'm smiling...

But nobody ever asks
What it costs.

BRIDGE

And if one day the winter ends
Will I remember warmth again?
Or have I lived inside the cold
So long it's all I've ever known?
I don't need someone to repair
The broken things I've learned to bear
Just someone who can understand
And stay when summer turns to sand

BUILD-UP

FINAL CHORUS

I carry winters in my smile
I've held the cold for such a while
And though the world sees summer skies
There's frozen rain behind my eyes

I carry winters in my smile
And make the lonely hours worthwhile
But underneath the light I show
There are a thousand shades of snow

FINAL DROP

OUTRO

I have carried entire winters...
Inside a summer smile.
