THE STORY

> Ordinary things become precious through the lives that brush against them. They hold the shape of an absence, making an empty room feel a little less empty. Sometimes we keep them because letting go feels too final; sometimes their quiet familiarity gives us enough comfort to carry on. When we ask for something we can keep, are we really asking to know that we mattered?

LYRICS

Something I Can Keep

VERSE 1

You left the jacket on my hanger.
I never asked you to take it back.
You said you'd come collect it sometime.
That was two winters back.

PRE-CHORUS

I wore it out to check the mailbox.
I wore it in the empty house.
You said it never fit you right there.
I never gave it back to you now.

CHORUS

Give me something I can keep.
Something time won't take from me.
Give me something I can keep.
Say you still remember me.

VERSE 2

You came to get it on a Tuesday.
I said the pocket kept your keys.
You laughed and said you'd looked for those ones.
You left them there for me.

PRE-CHORUS

I thought you'd finally take it from me.
You zipped it up and hung it back.
You said the house looked better with it.
I never asked you why you stayed.

CHORUS

Give me something I can keep.
Something time won't take from me.
Give me something I can keep.
Say you still remember me.

OUTRO

You left the jacket.
I never gave it back.
