THE STORY

> We waste so much time waiting for the right words, the right signal — until the only sign we get is the moment passing, and later becomes never. Life seldom sends the clear message we keep hoping for. Understanding comes later, when there is nothing left to do but remember. Will you recognise the next moment while it is still happening?

LYRICS

Outro – The Last Signal

SPOKEN TEXT

We waste so much time
Waiting for the right moment

The right words
The right direction
The right signal

But life rarely sends a clear message
Sometimes the only signal
Is that the moment passes

And suddenly we understand

Later
Became never
