WHERE THE WORLD TURNS GOLD

ft. Margirt "Ritta" Fellner

SPECIAL RELEASE · FOR MY FANS

THE STORY

When the Road Becomes Ours

By the time the city disappears in the rain, neither of them has a destination left to name — only the night, the last familiar streets, and questions neither knows how to answer.

Then the coastline opens. The clouds lift, the first light spreads across the water, and a hand reaches for his. The road ahead stops looking like something they have to solve.

They still do not know what tomorrow will ask of them. But here, between the fading night and a world turning gold, getting lost feels like the beginning of finding their way.

“Somewhere beside you, I stopped feeling lost.”

THE COLLABORATION

Margirt “Ritta” Fellner

A familiar voice. A personal connection.

Margirt “Ritta” Fellner is a 45-year-old singer from Bavaria and a good friend of DJ Andy’K. This special release brings that personal connection into a song about the comfort of having someone beside you.

Her featured vocal carries the words at the centre of the song: the roads may change, tomorrow can wait, and the person next to you can make an unfamiliar place feel like home.

Where the World Turns Gold

VERSE

We drove all night with nowhere left to go.
The city disappeared behind the rain.
You said the morning always finds us,
even when we lose our way.

PRE-CHORUS

And every road is changing,
but I know what I have found.
When I am there beside you,
nothing can pull us down.

CHORUS

*Take me where the world turns gold.
Where the air feels young and wild.
We don't need to know tomorrow.
We can leave it far behind.
Take me where the world turns gold.
Let the moment carry on.
If I have you here beside me,
I will never feel alone.*

Where the World Turns Gold

VERSE

We watched the coastline open underneath the fading sky.
Your fingers found mine in the glow.
I never knew that getting lost could be the only way to know.

PRE-CHORUS

And every road is changing,
but I know what I have found.
When I am there beside you,
nothing can pull us down.

CHORUS

*Take me where the world turns gold.
Where the air feels young and wild.
We don't need to know tomorrow.
We can leave it far behind.
Take me where the world turns gold.
Let the moment carry on.
If I have you here beside me,
I will never feel alone.*

OUTRO

*If I have you here beside me,
I will never feel alone.*

SPECIAL RELEASE · FOR MY FANS

This One Is for You.

A little surprise for the people who keep listening.

Today, I wanted to share something a little different with you. A song about taking the long way, letting tomorrow wait, and finding a moment worth staying in.

Thank you for making room for my music in your life.
